Why Results Vary So Much

The same prompt "best design tools for beginners" can yield completely different answers. Here's why:

1. Different Data Sources

Platform	Primary Index
ChatGPT	Bing + proprietary data
Perplexity	Google's index
Claude	Own crawled data
Google AI	Google's index

2. Ranking Algorithms

Each platform weighs factors differently:

- Authority vs. recency
- Popular sources vs. niche expertise
- User engagement signals
- Content depth vs. accessibility

3. Built-in Randomness

AI platforms have a `temperature` setting and intentionally vary responses to:

- Avoid repetitive answers
- Test different approaches
- Provide diverse perspectives

4. Temporal Factors

- Recent events influence context
- Model updates change behaviors

Now that you understand platform behaviors, let's dive into your dashboard and learn how to extract actionable insights from all this data.
